

Educational and Wellness Programming Intern (Psych Rehab)

Undergraduate Students

Location:

Emerson St. for Teens and Young Adults, 1610 N. Emerson St., Denver, CO 80218

Contact for student:

Position filled for 2017/2018 academic year. Please check back in the future!

Program Description:

Emerson St. provides prevention, early intervention, and clinical services that support the mental health and overall well-being of adolescents and young adults ages 15 to 26. Emerson St. embodies a holistic approach including supported employment, supported education, and wellness activities in a welcoming and non-judgmental environment. Services assist young people in making a successful and healthy transition into adulthood.

Title and Hours required:

Human Services/Psych Rehab/Psychology/Social Work/Anthropology/Sociology/Nutrition/Education/Behavioral Health Sciences/Fine Arts/Music Therapy/Outdoor Education/Wellness and Holistic Health Alternatives (we are open to other academic areas as well)

Time commitment: 10 – 30 hours per week

Duration: Semester (approx. September to December) or yearlong (approx. September to May)

Minimum Qualifications and # of openings:

We currently have one opening for an intern:

Must be in a Bachelor's level program.

Must have experience working with teenagers and/or young adults (preferably in a group setting).

Experience with public speaking/facilitating workshops/tutoring/leadership/camp counseling is preferred.

Experience with and/or knowledge of mental health field is preferred.

Student Supervisor's Credential Level:

MSW, LSW

Duties of Placement and Miscellaneous Information:

Intern is responsible for developing and facilitating wellness programming for 15 to 26-year-olds on site and in the community. In the past, topics have included things like art, music, cooking, exercise, social activities, and more. We want you to use your creativity, passion, and expertise to come up with new classes that our young people will enjoy and benefit from. The intern will also conduct tours, engage with community members, collaborate with other Emerson St. staff, and will have the opportunity to develop their own projects. The ideal candidate for this position will be reliable, punctual, organized, empathetic, creative, and a self-starter.